Hi Shayne,

Here are some maps that you could use to amend your Notice, as required.

Together, the Location maps meet the requirements of our rules.

Either of the Operation maps meets our rules. If you want to show other future areas of expansion (even if you don't bond for them right now), I can modify the OperationMap2-. Let me know what works for you. You wouldn't be able to mine "Future Areas" until adequate bond (or reclamation of a similar sized area) was provided.

The attached Word document is the Notice of Intent (NOI) form that you should fill out, consistent with the final maps and your plans going forward at this point. The Bug House will need to be re-registered with the State of Utah if that entity is going to be the permittee (see <https://secure.utah.gov/bes/>). Which means that the name on the bond and reclamation contract may also need to be updated.

Let me know if you have questions.

Peter
